NEGRO BURNED AT THE STAKE Louisiana Mob Avenges Attack on White Woman.

Columbus, Miss., Oct. 25 .- A negre named Bill Morris, who assaulted Mrs. John Ball of Balltown, La., was burned at the stake yesterday. After being captured he made an effort to implicate others, but they soon proved their innocence. He was taken to the scene of his crime, tied to a pine sapling with chains and his feet and hands chained to his body. Pine knots and nine straw were niled about the body and saturated with kerosene and the whole set on fire. The negro made no outcry when the flames first reacned him, and only when he was partly consumed did the spectators notice any movement on his part. He made no resistance when being bound to the stake and said that he deserved his Pound Foolishness. One of the commonest forms of pound foolishness is countenanced by many high authorities. This is the purchase of certain household provisions in large quantities. Few writers on domestic topics fail to lay stress upon the economy of buying groceries in bulk. That sugar and flour, potatoes and apples should be bought by the half or whole barrel, cereals by the case, butter by the tub and other things in like proportion is one of the early precepts in the "Young Housekeeper's Complete Guide to Domestic Economy."

The ignorant young things buy the provisions first and the experience afterward. The flour grows musty, the cereals develop weevils, the potatoes and apples rot long before they can be eaten, and the cook exercises a lavishness in the use of the butter and sugar she would never show were they bought keeper could hold close watch over them. Even after these events the young mistress feels as if she were absolutely reckless and no manager at all when she so far departs from household law as to buy food in small quantities. Independent.

Loneliness and Health.

A medical fournal has of late been discoursing on the indigestion of love liness. By this title is meant to be indicated the disorders of digestion which are believed to follow the practice of miles from the Missouri line in Appa taking one's meals in solitary state. noose county, Iowa, 60 miles south | The topic is by no means an uninteresting one. Thousands of men and women living alone are compelled to take their meals for the most part without company. Week in and week out they feed themselves without a soul to talk to, and the medical journal devotes its energies to showing that the practice is not one that is likely to be conducive to digestion, to proper bodily nourishment or to health. The solltary man soon tires of merely eating, and, if he is not of a literary turn of mind, his tendency is to harry through his meals to escape from his loneliness into the society of his fellow men. Herein, it is held, lies a danger to health.

disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with. It is customary to speak of Catarrh as nothing more serious than a bad cold, a simple inflammation of the nose and throat. It is, in fact, a complicated and very dangerous disease; if not at first, it very soon becomes so.

The blood is quickly contaminated by the foul secretions, and the poison through the general circulation is carried to all parts of the system.

Salves, washes and sprays are unsatisfactory and disappointing, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does. It cleanses the blood of the poison and eliminates from the system all catarrhal secretions, and thus cures thoroughly and permanently the worst cases.

Mr. T. A. Williams, a leading dry-goods merchant of Spartanburg, S. C., writes: "For years I had a severe case of nasal Catarrh, with all the disagreeable effects which belong to that disease, and which make life painful and unendurable. I used medicines prescribed by leading physicians and suggested by numbers of friends, but without getting any better. I then began to take S. S. S. It had the desired effect, and cured me after taking eighteen bottles. In my opiulon S. S. S. is the only medicine now in use that will effect a permanent cure of Catarrh."
